A photograph of a rustic wooden balcony. The balcony has a wooden floor and ceiling. On the left, there are two framed pictures on the wall. In the center, there is a small round table with a teapot and cups, and two wicker chairs with cushions. A striped blanket is draped over one of the chairs. The balcony railing is made of wood. In the background, there is a snowy mountain landscape with evergreen trees and a small village. The sky is overcast.

A brown horse with a harness is pulling a sled through a snowy forest. Three people are on the sled: a man in a dark jacket and fur hat, a person in a yellow jacket, and a woman in a dark jacket and goggles. The sled has a grey blanket and a brown fur blanket. In the background, there are snow-covered trees and a wooden building with a snow-covered roof.
